

Augustine Lo Shares Remarks on Potential Tariff Increase on Chinese Steel and Aluminum

by T. Augustine Lo

On April 17, Dorsey Of Counsel Augustine Lo was quoted in a Law360 article about President Joe Biden's pursuit of higher tariffs on Chinese steel and aluminum imports. Augustine shared the following:

"By publicly calling for a tripling of the lower 7.5% rate, President Biden appears to be both garnering support from domestic interest groups that oppose competition from China and signaling frustration with the progress of trade negotiations with China. The ongoing Section 301 proceedings provide the Biden Administration with a mechanism to potentially channel this popular sentiment into higher tariffs on Chinese steel and aluminum products."

Read the full article on Law360.

Related People

- T. Augustine Lo

Related Capabilities

- International Trade
- China