

David Tang Shares Observations on SEC's Recent Constraints After Several Judgements

by David Tang

Partner David Tang shared his observations in a PrivateFundsCFO digital magazine article on the implications of recent judgements against the Securities and Exchange Commission. Expecting copious amounts of SEC rulemaking texts to come, David commented: "The SEC is going to have to be extra clear in their rulemaking releases, a rough equivalent of legislative history. The deference is gone. If you want to defend your rules, you'll want to be sure they're clear on its face and provide detailed interpretations up front. That's easier said than done."

Read the full article, written by Bill Myers, on PrivateFundsCFO.com. (A free account is required)

Related People

- David Tang

Related Capabilities

- Investment Funds
- Investment Management
- Financial Services Regulatory
- Government Enforcement & Corporate Investigations
- Corporate Governance & Compliance