Boise – 208.617.2534

Kristiana represents companies at all stages of growth, advising on venture capital and other financings, mergers & acquisitions, private equity, and corporate governance matters.

Kristiana focuses her practice on the intricacies of corporate and securities law. Her role involves working closely with emerging growth companies, guiding them through different stages of their development. She offers advice on a variety of key issues, including formation, corporate governance, conversion, securities laws, venture financings, and debt financings. Her expertise also includes mergers and acquisitions, where she assists clients on both the buying and selling sides. Additionally, Kristiana advises on other major business initiatives and arrangements, and provides guidance to company leaders on their legal responsibilities and duties.

Prior to joining Dorsey, Kristiana was an associate at a prestigious Am Law 100 firm. She also brings experience from the energy sector, having worked for a petroleum company in Austin, Texas. In this role, she handled negotiations for land use, managed rights to natural resources, ensured compliance with government regulations, and conducted property title research.
