

Labor Law Roundtable 2024

by Nisha Verma

What are the latest developments regarding employers' obligations where employees seek to form a union in their workforce?

With improvements to predictive AI playing a more significant role in employee hiring, will there be legal pitfalls for employers who elect to utilize this new technology?

What are the most common mistakes you see employers make in responding to disability accommodation requests?

Read the Labor Law Roundtable to learn Partner Nisha Verma's responses to these questions and more. Nisha contributed her insights to the Orange County Business Journal's 2024 edition of the Q&A article this June.

Related People

- Nisha Verma

Related Capabilities

- Labor & Employment