

Lejla Nycum

Senior Paralegal

Lejla helps clients navigate U.S. and global patent prosecution with precision and reliable coordination across jurisdictions.

Lejla is a senior patent paralegal with extensive experience supporting U.S. and international patent prosecution. She works closely with attorneys, clients, and foreign associates to coordinate filings, manage deadlines, and ensure compliance with jurisdiction-specific requirements throughout the patent lifecycle. Lejla assists with U.S. patent prosecution, foreign filing, prosecution formalities, and other matters through the prosecution lifecycle. She is known for her thoroughness, responsiveness, and ability to manage complex matters efficiently while maintain clear communication. Lejla values consistency and collaboration and takes provide in providing dependable support.

Languages

- Bosnian

Education

- Davenport University (B.S., Legal Studies, 2009)
- Thomas M. Cooley Law School (J.D., 2013)