Boise – 208.617.2531

Michael uses his legal skills to help guide his clients through corporate transactions and various other business law related matters.

Michael is a transactional attorney who primarily focuses on mergers and acquisitions, as well as providing outside general counsel services for his clients. Additionally, Michael is experienced in helping start-up businesses get on their feet to set themselves up for success.

After graduating law school, Michael, a Minnesota native, decided to bring his “Minnesota Nice” to Boise, Idaho. Before working for Dorsey & Whitney, Michael was an associate attorney at a firm located generally in the Pacific Northwest as part of their business law group. When Michael is not immersed in his legal work, he enjoys watching baseball, along with other sports, and exploring the various landscapes Idaho has to offer.
