Salt Lake City – 801.579.7406

Michele helps clients navigate complex intellectual property litigation. As a registered patent attorney, she brings a comprehensive perspective which allows her to partner with clients on practical solutions.

Her experience in trademark and patent prosecution has provided her with unique insights into her litigation practice. Michele's technical background in physics has facilitated a patent practice which includes a wide variety of technology areas, ranging from computer software to mechanical devices. She has represented clients from a wide range of industries, including: a National Hockey League team in trademark litigation; a leading fitness equipment manufacturer in patent infringement litigation; a leading home automation and security system provider in patent litigation; the world's largest aerospace company in patent prosecution; and one of the world's most popular rock bands in trademark prosecution and proceedings before the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board. In addition to her experience in patent and trademark litigation, her practice includes trade dress infringement litigation and trade secret misappropriation litigation. Michele also has experience with pharmaceutical patents including Hatch-Waxman Act litigation.
