

Partner Jocelyn Knoll Quoted in ISHN Article About Women in Construction

During Women in Construction Week, Jocelyn Knoll contributed to an Industrial Safety & Hygiene News (ISHN) article about the increased number of women in construction leadership roles. "The construction industry continues to grow, which means there is more opportunity for everyone who works in this industry," said Joceyln. "My focus is not on gender neutrality in the industry; rather, my focus is growing the management opportunities for women in the industry as a whole."

Learn more about the recent employment trends, challenges, and successes of women in the construction industry by reading the full ISHN article. (Registration may be required)

Related Capabilities

- Construction & Design