Sam helps clients attain success through zealous advocacy at all stages of litigation.

From representing healthcare institutions to individual shareholders in closely-held corporations, Sam helps clients navigate high-stakes conflicts where relationships and regulations intersect. Sam's goal is always to provide clear, strategic counsel that protects what matters most to the client. Sam works at all stages of the litigation process, developing litigation strategy to create a consistent and persuasive theory of the case.

Prior to joining Dorsey, Sam served as a judicial intern to the First Circuit Court of Appeals. Sam is actively involved in pro bono, representing clients in asylum proceedings in Immigration court, veterans before the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims, and first amendment protections.

Select Experience

- Member of six-attorney team representing minority shareholder of closely-held company in month-long bench trial winning over $40 million judgment for client.
