

Upcoming Webinar on the SEC's New Mining Disclosure Rules - 2/26

February 13, 2019 – Governance & Compliance Insider
by Christopher L. Doerksen

You are invited to join us on February 26, 2019, at 11 am PT/2 pm ET, for a webinar discussing the SEC's new mining disclosure rules.

On October 31, 2018, the SEC adopted final rules effecting a complete overhaul of the technical disclosure requirements applicable to companies engaged in material mining operations, including royalties. Upon effectiveness in 2021, the new rules will replace the SEC's decades-old guidelines, set forth in Industry Guide 7. The new rules will bring the U.S. reporting regime closer to global reporting standards, and will apply to all SEC reporting companies except those that report exclusively under the Canada-U.S. MJDS system. We will be providing an overview of the new rules, and how U.S. domestic, Canadian, other foreign, and even MJDS filers will be affected.

The registration page and details about CLE/CPD credit are available here: dorsey.com/newsresources/events/event/2019/02/understanding-the-secs-new-mining-disclosure-rules.

A written discussion of the SEC's new mining disclosure rules (in Q&A format) is available here: dorsey.com/newsresources/publications/client-alerts/2019/02/new-mining-disclosure-rules-2019.

Related People

- Christopher L. Doerksen

Related Capabilities

- Corporate Governance & Compliance
- Mergers & Acquisitions
- Government Enforcement & Corporate Investigations